Marine and Environmental Studies Scholarship

Amount: $5,000
Deadline for application: January 27, 2023

Awarded annually to a full-time student enrolled in the first, second, third, or fourth year of a recognized program related to environment, sustainable development, marine engineering, ocean mapping, natural science or related programs. The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to a career in one of these fields.

Eligibility: Open to Nunavut Inuit enrolled under the Nunavut Agreement. Priority will be given in the following order:

1. Inuit applicants from Sanirajak, Igloolik, Clyde River, Pond Inlet, Arctic Bay
2. Inuit from the Qikiqtani region
3. Inuit from the rest of Nunavut

Examples of job titles in marine and environmental studies available at Baffinland include:

- Environmental Coordinator
- Environmental Engineer
- Environmental Superintendent
- Environmental Technician
- Environmental, Social and Governance Manager
- Shipping Monitor

- Environmental Assessment Specialist
- Environmental and Regulatory Compliance Manager
- Permitting Specialist
- Regulatory Reporting Specialist/Manager
- Sustainability Specialist
- Head of Shipping

Application instructions:

We encourage all those interested in pursuing post-secondary education to apply for one of the scholarships, even if their area of study does not completely align with the description outlined above. To apply, submit the application and supporting documentation (listed in the application guidelines), to our Baffinland offices in Arctic Bay, Clyde River, Sanirajak, Igloolik, and Pond Inlet, to our Northern Headquarters in Iqaluit, or by email at contact@baffinland.com. Application forms are available on Baffinland's website and in our Baffinland offices and Northern Headquarters. For more information, contact us.

We look forward to receiving your application!

Baffinland Iron Mines Scholarship Committee